Fresh 'N Press: The Choice for London Consumers

London, ON: For a local, service-oriented business, the ultimate success is recognition by one's customers, friends and neighbours for a job well done. For Fresh 'N Press, London's first wet cleaner, the 2019 Consumer Choice Award represents a long history of hard work, loyalty and service excellence.

It was 45 years ago when the company first opened its garment cleaning business in London. "Every single day since, it has been our honour, our pleasure and our sincere privilege to serve the families of this great community," says owner Dennis Peckham. That relationship took a major step forward 20 years ago, when Fresh 'N Press became London's first wet cleaner and incorporated a process that uses no harmful chemicals, emits no air pollution, and causes no water or soil contamination.

Awarded at a recent dinner held at the Best Western Plus Lamplighter Inn & Conference Centre here in London, the 2019 Consumer Choice Awards reflect top-ranked service as identified by statistically-supported independent market research. The award in the "Dry" Cleaners Category represents such attributes as brand reputation, business excellence and, most importantly to the Fresh 'N Press team, customer satisfaction.

Fresh 'N Press is located at 405 Wharncliffe Rd. S., in London's Old South neighbourhood. For more information, please call (519) 433-5546 or visit the company website at www.freshnpress.com.
